WILL PUBLISH JUNE 5th:

I.

LAND AND LABOR IN THE UNITED STATES.

By WM. GODWIN MOODY. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.50.

Mr. Moody's book gives a graphic account of the condition of the laboring classes in America, and the causes which affect their prosperity, showing also the remedies which may be effectually applied for the cure of the social evils now so pressing. The chapters relating to land will be found especially fresh and interesting, and this part of the book contains a store of facts that have nowhere else been so conveniently collected.

There is nothing of an alarmist tendency in the work, nor any leaning to socialistic doctrine. The remedies proposed are radical, but not extravagant, and the aim of the discussion is to harmonize conflicting social interests, not to antagonize them. It is the freshest and most valuable contribution that has yet been made in this country to the discussion of the great social problem, and it is at the same time readable and entertaining.

II.

UNDERGROUND RUSSIA:

Revolutionary Profiles and Sketches from Life. By STEPNIAK, formerly editor of Zemlia i Volia (Land and Liberty). With a Preface by Peter Lavroff. Translated from the Italian. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.25.

"The book is as yet unique in literature, it is a priceless contribution to our knowledge of Russian thought and feeling; as a true and faithful reflection of certain aspects of, perhaps, the most tremendous political movement in history, it seems destined to become a standard work."—Athenæum.

"This brilliant little book may be fairly described as unique in literature. . . . The writer is a practical Nihilist, and he tells as much of practical Nihilism as he thinks it is necessary for us to know. The result is a book that can hardly be too highly recommended, whether as history or as actual romance."—London Graphic.

"The book helps us to realize with almost oppressive distinctness many of the most extraordinary phases of revolutionary life. . . . It does not deal with something that is past, but gives us a striking picture of the various types of men and women who are still carrying on their appalling work."—Pall Mall Gazette.

III.

TIGER LILY AND OTHER STORIES.

By Mrs. JULIA SCHAYER. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.

Mrs. Schayer has become known as a writer of magazine stories which are far above the average of such literature. They are marked by a nervous and forcible style and high degree of literary finish. The longest of the stories contained in this volume, "Tiger-Lily," is a work of unusual power, the others, "Molly," "Thirza," "A Summer's Diversion," and "My Friend, Miss Angel," are all of permanent interest and value.

IN PRESS FOR EARLY PUBLICATION:

GETTYSBURG TO THE RAPIDAN.

The Army of the Potomac, from July, 1863, to March, 1864. By ANDREW A. HUMPHREYS, Brevet Major-Gen., U. S. A., etc.; author of "The Virginia Campaign of '64 and '65." 1 vol., 12mo, with maps, 75 cents.

This volume, while not connected directly with the series of war histories just completed, forms a connecting link between the account of the battle of Gettysburg and General Humphreys' history of the Virginia campaign of 1864 and '65. The retreat of Lee from Pennsylvania followed by Meade and the various strategic operations of both armies have never been satisfactorily described. General Humphreys' book throws new light upon this important series of movements, and for army officers especially it will have unusual interest and value.

V.

THE CONCLUDING VOLUME OF THE SERIES,

NOTES IN SEASON.

GINN, HEATH & Co. have just ready the "Geography of the Ancient World," a compendium for the use of schools, prepared by Wm. F. Allen, A. M., to accompany their "Classical Atlas."

S. C. GRIGGS & Co. have just ready a new edition of Prof. R. B. Anderson's "America not Discovered by Columbus," enlarged by 44 pages of a "Bibliography of the Pre-Columbian Discoveries of America," by Paul Barron Watson, which originally appeared in the Library Journal.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish on the 5th inst. W. Godwin Moody's book, "Land and Labor in the United States;" "Underground Russia," by Stepniak; and "Tiger Lily and Other Stories," by Mrs. Julia Schayer.

S. E. CASSINO & Co. have published "A Visit to Ceylon," by Ernst Haeckel, a description of which will be found in this issue of the WEEKLY; also "A Manual of Taxidermy," by C. J. Maynard, a reliable guide for collecting and preparing specimens of birds and other animals, rendered doubly useful by excellent diagrams and illustrations.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS publish this week "Recollections of My Youth," by Ernest Renan, translated by C. B. Pitman; "The Yellowstone National Park," a manual for tourists, describing the mammoth hot springs, the geyser basins, the cañons, and other features of the land of wonders, with an appendix containing railroad lines and rates, as well as other miscellaneous information, by Henry J. Winsor. They have also ready an edition of Pedro Carolino's "English as She is Spoke."

CUPPLES, UPHAM & Co. already announce a second edition of Rev. Wm. W. Newton's novel, "The Priest and the Man;" and a third edition of "Mr. and Mrs. Morton," which is creating a great sensation in the social circles of Boston, where its authorship is attributed to three successful young physicians—Dr. Morton Prince, Dr. J. R. Chadwick, and Dr. Harold Williams—whose friends claim to recognize persons and incidents, and who add many to the eager buyers of this remarkable book.

J. R. OSGOOD & Co. publish "Brook Farm to Cedar Mountain, 1861-1862," in which Gen. Geo. H. Gordon gives a graphic account of the military operations in Northern Virginia during the beginning of the civil war, brightened by anecdotes of field and camp life. The book contains four heliotype illustrations and four maps. They have also ready "The New Guide to the Conversation in Portuguese and English, by Pedro Carolino, which derives an attraction of its own from a preface by Mark Twain.

T. B. PETERSON & BROS. have published a new issue of Zola's latest work, "The Bonheur des Dames," changing the title to "The Ladies' Paradise," probably to make it more comprehensible to English readers. The book has already attracted a great deal of attention owing to its graphic description of a subject with which we are all more or less familiar. They call attention on another page to their new issues of Mrs. Burnett's earlier stories, "Kathleen," "Theo," etc., which were first published in Peterson's Magazine.

TOWNSEND MACCOUN, Chicago, has just published a little manual taken from the papers of the late Amos Dean, on "The British Constitution." The volume is written in that concise and attractive style of which the head of the Albany Law School was so thoroughly a master, and will be welcomed not only by lawyers but by every historical student. Mr. MacCoun has also just ready a volume on "Pianoforte Music: its History, with Biographical Sketches and Critical Estimates of its Greatest Masters," by John Comfort Fillmore. This work is described by Julius Eichberg, director of the Boston Conservatory of Music, as a "thoughtful and very interesting book," and "a worthy contribution to our American musical literature."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); TL. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

Argles, Mrs. M. ["The Duchess."] Loys, Lord Berresford, and other tales. Phil., J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1883. 3-387 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Besides "Loys" contains: Eric Dering, Sweet is true love, Lydia, Jocelyne, The witching hour, The pity of it, How Snooks got out of it, Cross-purposes, Her first appearance, Krin, Beatrix, Clarissa's choice, What a mad world it is, my Masters, The baby, The dilemma, That last rehearsal.

*Barker, Lady. Station life in New Zealand. New ed. N. Y., Macmillan, 1883. 11+283 p. S. cl., $1.25.

*Barker, Lady. A year's housekeeping in South Africa. New ed. N. Y., Macmillan, 1883. 8+335 p. il. S. cl., $1.25.

Barrett, Frank. Honest Davie: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1883. 63 p. Q. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib., no. 316.) pap., 20 c.

*Bible. The epistle to the Hebrews, in Greek and English, with critical and explanatory notes by F. Rendall. N. Y., Macmillan, 1883. 35+176 p. D. net, 90 c.

Browning, Rob. Jocoseria. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1883. 117 p. S. cl., $1.

"A collection of Robert Browning's last ten poems is called 'Jocoseria.' Two of them, 'Wanting' and 'Never the time and the place,' are short love poems, and belong with the old dramatic lyrics. 'Solomon and Balkis,' and 'Adam, Lilith and Eve' are condensed expressions of contempt for women and men. 'Mary Wollstoncraft' is the wail of a broken heart. These are very short. The two longer poems are 'Jochanan Hakkadosh,' an Eastern story, interesting, but not quite clear at the first reading, and 'Ixion,' which recalls some of the finest lines in 'Saul,' and seems to be one more attempt to express the highest aspirations of which the soul is capable, and the miserable human weakness and limitation which drag it away from its ideal. Only the blind worshippers of Browning will find this volume satisfactory; yet he has never written sharper satire. 'Donald' is a striking and dramatic poem, and 'Hakkadosh' will undoubtedly repay careful study."—Boston Advertiser.

Carolino, Pedro. English as she is spoke; or, a jest in sober earnest; with an introduction by Ja. Millington. N. Y., Appleton, [1883]. 20+60 p. T. (Parchment paper ser., no. 1.) pap., 30 c.

Compiled from the "New guide of the conversation in Portuguese and English," a little work published some eight years ago in sober earnest for the use of Portuguese in learning English. "Only a sufficient number of the English extracts are culled to enable the reader to form a just idea of the unintentionally humorous style that an author may fall into who attempts to follow the intricacies of 'English as she is spoke' by the aid of a French dictionary and a phrase-book." The initial volume of a new series. Noticeably tasteful. Printed on linen paper with wide margins, but edges cut.

Carolino, Pedro. English as she is spoke; or, a jest in sober earnest; with an introduction by Ja. Millington. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1883. 20+60 p. T. pap., 20 c.

See note under preceding title.

Crawford, F. Marion. Doctor Claudius: a true story. N. Y., Macmillan, 1883. 6+353 p. D. cl., $1.

The author of "Mr. Isaacs" has chosen a new field for his present novel. It opens in Heidelberg, where Dr. Claudius, a Swede, has been a student and lecturer for ten years. A large fortune left him by an uncle who dies in America, and a sudden passion for a beautiful American countess, the widow of a Russian nobleman, bring him to New York. His love is the basis of the story. In it are mixed up an English duke, a Russian nihilist, and a rich young Wall Street broker. There is a deep mystery about the hero's birth, who appears to have but the one name, Claudius, which is not cleared up.

Dix, J. Adams. Memoirs of John Adams Dix; compiled by his son, Morgan Dix. N. Y., Harper, 1883. 2 v., 14+388; 6+435 p. il. and por., O. cl., $5.

"The life of General John A. Dix, from his fifteenth year, when, fired by the example of his father, he entered the United States army at the commencement of the war of 1812 to the close of his administration as Governor of the State of New York in 1874, was, with the exception of a few short intervals, one of uninterrupted activity in the public service. During a large portion of that period the country was confronted by some of the gravest problems which a nation could be called upon to solve, and in the discussion of these questions, as well as in the momentous events into which they developed themselves, the subject of this memoir bore a conspicuous and effective part. This work, accordingly, has a profound interest, not only for those who may desire to learn the particulars of the career of an honored and useful citizen, but also for those who are earnest students of the course of affairs in the republic during the most critical years of its existence. It is at once a biography of General Dix, and an epitome of the history of his times."

Dunning, Mrs. A. K. What to do. Phil., American Sunday-School Union, [1883]. 3-218 p. 1 il. D. (What to do ser., no. 1.) cl., $1.10.

Story for young girls; relates to school life and the influence of the teacher in forming character and shaping the after-life of her pupils.

*Fo-sho-hing-tsan-king (The): a life of Buddha by Asvaghosha Bodhisattva; tr. from Sanskrit into Chinese by Dharmaraksha, A.D. 420, and from Chinese into English by S. Beal. N. Y., Macmillan, 1883. 37+380 p. O. (Sacred books of the East, ed. by F. Max Müller, v. 19.) cl., net, $2.75.

Fulton, Justin D., D.D. Sam Hobart, the locomotive engineer: a workingman's solution of the labor problem. N. Y., Funk & Wagnalls, [1883]. 242 p. por. and 1 il. D. (Standard lib., no. 89.) pap., 25 c.

Dr. Fulton says: "The life of Sam Hobart, the locomotive engineer, is written to portray the possibilities of happiness and usefulness within the reach of a workingman content to fill the sphere of usefulness awarded him, and willing to lend a helping hand to do work for God and man lying near him and waiting for him."

Green, S. W., comp. Complete history of the New York and Brooklyn bridge, from its conception in 1866 to its completion in 1883; with portraits and sketches of the lives of J. A. Roebling, Washington A. Roebling, H. C. Murphy, J. S. T. Stranahan, W. C. Kingsley, Seth Low. N. Y., S. W. Green's Son, 1883. 3-96 p. il. O. pap., 25 c.

Haeckel, Ernst. A visit to Ceylon; tr. by Clara Bell. Bost., S. E. Cassino & Co., 1883. 8+337 p. D. cl., $2.50.

Also published under the title "India and Ceylon." See notice, "Weekly Record," P. W., May 12, '83 [590].

Hallowell, B. Autobiography: written at the request of his daughter, Caroline H. Miller, for his children and grandchildren, in the 76th

* In this list, the titles generally are verbatim transcriptions (according to the rule of the American Library Association) from books received. Books not received are indicated by a prefixed asterisk, and this office cannot be held responsible for the correctness of their record. This list will be reprinted, verbatim, with all the notices of the books received, in the TRADE LIST ANNUAL.

year of his age. Phil., Friends' Book Assoc., 1883. 12+394 p. por. D. cl.,

The subject of this work was an approved minister of the Society of Friends; he was b. in Pa. 1799, and d. 1877; he was well known as a scholar and philanthropist. Besides the story of his exemplary life, the book contains extracts from his lectures and published articles, letters from friends, etc.

Hawthorne, Nathaniel. True stories from New England history, 1620-1692. Grandfather's chair, pt. 1; with questions. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1883. 5-76 p. S. (Riverside literature ser., no. 7.) pap., 15 c.

See note under Longfellow.

Haygood, Atticus G., D.D., and McIntosh, R. M., eds. Prayer and praise; or, hymns and tunes for prayer-meetings, praise-meetings, and all special occasions of Christian work and worship. Macon, Ga., J. W. Burke & Co., 1883. 320 p. O. bds., music ed., 75 c.; word ed., without music, 25 c.

The editors say this is not offered as a church hymn-book, but as supplementary to such a book. It contains the cream of many collections, and is carefully classified as to subjects and occasions. The book is noticeably well gotten up, being printed from new type and carefully bound. It is issued in three editions as follows: Round notes; Character, or seven-shaped notes; and Words without notes.

*Jevons, W. Stanley. Methods of social reform, and other papers. N. Y., Macmillan, 1883. 8+383 p. O. cl., $3.

Kidd, Rob. New elocution and vocal culture. Cin., Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co., [1883]. 504 p. D. cl., net, $1.

The first edition of Kidd's "Vocal culture" was published over 25 years ago. It still retains its popularity as one of the most practical books on the subject. The new book contains much new and important matter; fuller information on essential points; a greater number of valuable exercises, and many new and appropriate examples for the illustration and exemplifications of the rules and principles presented.

Kofler, Leo. The old Italian school of singing. Albany, N. Y., Edgar S. Werner, 1883. 6+125 p. O. cl., $1.25.

Mr. Kofler is a teacher of singing and choirmaster of St. Paul's Chapel, Trinity Parish, N. Y.; these papers appeared originally in The Voice; they are now presented in book-form for the use of his vocal pupils. They offer a historical sketch of the old Italian school of voice-training, its rise and partial decline in Italy, and how it was transplanted into Germany. Also some information about breathing, etc., and directions for the use of breathing gymnastics.

*Larcom, Lucy. Childhood songs. New ed. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1883. 200 p. i. S. cl., reduced to $1.

Lillie, Lucy C. Nan. N. Y., Harper, 1883. 3-202 p. i. S. cl., $1.

"This is a delightful story [for girls] in Mrs. Lillie's happiest vein. The heroine, Nan, is left an orphan and is adopted by a kind but poor and vulgar aunt, in whose family she spends the years of her early girlhood. Some rich relations, who had held aloof from her on account of a misunderstanding with her father, unexpectedly send for her, and she is suddenly introduced to a life of elegance and luxury. Her new companions endeavor to make her forget the ideas and attachments which she had already formed, but Nan is too pure and true to be corrupted by the conventional teaching of fashionable society."

Logan, Algernon Sydney. Saul: a dramatic poem. Phil., J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1883. 80 p. D. cl., $1.

Biblical drama in three acts, Saul being the chief personage; the action is confined to Mount Gilboa and its immediate vicinity.

Longfellow, H. Wadsworth. Evangeline; with notes and a biographical sketch. Bost.,

Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1883. 104 p. S. (Riverside literature ser., no. 1.) pap., 15 c.

The first volume of a neat little series in paper, especially adapted for schools and home reading. To contain entire poems, sketches and essays by the best authors.

Metcalf, R. The abiding memory: sermons by Richard Metcalf, pastor of the Winchester Unitarian Soc., from 1866 to 1881; with a brief memoir. Bost., G. H. Ellis, 1883. 2+211 p. D. cl., $1.50.

Richard Metcalf was b. in Providence, R. I., 1829, and d. in Winchester, Mass., 1881, where he had been for fifteen years pastor of the Winchester Unitarian Society. Besides memoir contains 16 sermons on practical questions of everyday life, and religious topics.

Moffat, Ja. C., D.D. The church in Scotland: a history of its antecedents, its conflicts and its advocates, from the earliest recorded times to the first assembly of the Reformed Church. Phil., Presb. Bd. of Pub., [1883]. 447 p. maps. D. cl., $1.75.

Popularly written history of the early Scottish church. Divided into "Ancient period," "Period of Papal rule," "Causes which led to the Reformation," and "The Reformation conflict."

Mombert, J. I., D.D. A hand-book of the English versions of the Bible; with copious examples illustrating the ancestry and relationship of the several versions, and comparative tables., N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., [1883]. 24+509 p. D. cl., $2.50.

An account of the various changes the common English version of the Bible has gone through, from the first Anglo-Saxon and the earliest English versions, to its present form, including a full account of English versions based on the Vulgate. Also chapters on the authorized version and the revision of the Bible. With a preface, contents, comparative tables, general index and index to illustrative passages.

Newton, Rev. W. W. The priest and the man; or, Abelard and Heloise: a novel. [Anon.] Bost., Cupples, Upham & Co., 1883. 4+548 p. i. S. cl., $1.50.

Though published anonymously, generally attributed to the Rev. William Wilberforce Newton. The Literary World says: "In this book we have an interesting and useful historical novel, worth reading. . . . The story, which follows with reasonable accuracy the well-known historic lines of the two famous lives, wanders far and wide in travel, as was fit for the vagabond age of crusader and minnesinger, but it always comes home with graceful amends for its exile. It goes far in praise to say that the book creates a real atmosphere of its own, quaint, realistic, and mediæval."

*Oliphant, Mrs. M. O. W. The ladies Lindores: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1883. S. cl., $1.

Orton, Ja. Comparative zoölogy: structural and systematic, for use in schools and colleges. Rev. ed. N. Y., Harper, 1883. 413 p. i. O. cl., $1.80.

"In revising the work of Prof. Orton, the writer has not attempted to rewrite the book nor to introduce new ideas. His plan has been to insert such changes as the author would have been likely to make if he had lived to revise his books. On only two points has the reviser departed from this plan of altering only minor details. The chapter on development has been largely rewritten, and the classification of the invertebrates has been changed so as to separate the worms from the arthropoda and the sponges from the protozoa. In both these cases the change seemed imperatively demanded by the progress of zoology in those directions. It is hoped that the alterations in the book will increase its accuracy and usefulness."—Note by the reviser, Edward A. Birge.

*Plumbers of Philadelphia: proposed ordinance and rules and regulations for regulating the plumbing, house drainage, registration and licensing of plumbers in the city of Philadelphia, as reported by the Committee of 21. Phil., P. Blakiston, Son & Co., 1883. 15 p. D. pap., 10 c.

Robinson, Phil. Sinners and saints: a tour across the States and around them; with three months among the Mormons. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1883. 10+370 p. D. cl., $1.50.

Delightfully written account of a trip from New York to Chicago, thence to Denver, Leadville, and on to Salt Lake City. The result of the three months spent by Mr. Robinson among the Mormons will be found in a number of fair and unprejudiced chapters upon the domestic life and peculiar institutions of these peoples. Nevada, California, and Colorado also come in for notice. Mr. Robinson looked at everything with the eyes of a cosmopolitan Englishman, and describes with the quiet humor so charming in "Under the sun," at the same time one feels that he is reliable and trustworthy.

THE TAUCHNITZ COLLECTION.

From the (London) Bookseller, April.

THE interest with which the vast treasures of English literature have been and will always be regarded by English-reading people on the Continent is immense; yet a great drawback existed for many years, inasmuch as English works were only to be had at a very high price. Students of English literature could thus gratify their tastes only to a limited extent. These two important questions: the popularizing of English literature on the Continent, and the reduction of the price generally demanded for English original editions, induced Baron Tauchnitz, of Leipzig, to found, more than forty years ago, his famous "Collection of British Authors," now known throughout the world. The works of the most prominent English, and, afterward, American writers are published in the Tauchnitz Collection, in solid, handy and cheap volumes (price M. 1.60 = 1s. 6d.) "immediately on their appearance, for continental circulation only;" among them the works of W. H. Ainsworth, 53 vols.; W. Black, 24 vols.; Miss Braddon, 64 vols.; Mrs. Henry Wood, 58 vols.; George Eliot, 17 vols.; James Payn, 35 vols.; Edmund Yates, 27 vols.; Lady Georgiana Fullarton, 21 vols.; Miss Kavanagh, 35 vols.; "Ouida," 36 vols.; Miss Rhoda Broughton, 12 vols.; Miss Yonge, 20 vols.; Anthony Trollope, 79 vols.; Wilkie Collins, 39 vols.; Charles Kingsley, 12 vols.; Lord Beaconsfield, 17 vols.; together with the novels of Thackeray and Dickens, etc. etc. This enterprise was the more honorable to Baron Tauchnitz as he was the first German publisher who, though no international treaties or laws as yet existed for the protection of literary property, entered into private contracts with English writers, who were willing to publish their productions in his collection. He thus voluntarily admitted the pecuniary interests of foreign writers, as well as providing for the literary interests of all those who are fond of English reading. Begun on such good principles, the Tauchnitz editions at once met with well-deserved success, and soon became a flourishing branch of the firm's business. The first volume, "Pelham," by Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton, was brought out in September, 1841, followed by the "Pickwick Papers," by Charles Dickens; others of Bulwer's novels and the works of Byron, Shakespeare, Swift, Thomson, etc. Already in February, 1860, volume 500 was published, the first distinguishing mark in the collection, entitled "Five Centuries of the English Language and Literature," edited by Dr. C. Vogel. It contains a preface, in which the editor expresses his satisfaction at the good-will of writers and readers who have encouraged his pursuits. One of the authors, "celebrated alike as a novelist and statesman," wrote: "It is with extreme satisfaction that I have assented to the wish of Mr. Bernhard Tauchnitz, of Leipzig, to prepare an edition of ——— for Continental circulation, and especially for the German public. The sympathy of a great nation is the most precious reward of authors, and an appreciation that is offered us by a foreign people has something of the character and value which we attribute to the fiat of posterity." The contents of this interesting volume are: John Wycliffe (St. John's Gospel), Geoffrey Chaucer (Story of Patient Griselda), Stephen Hawes (Pastime of Pleasure), Sir Thomas More (The Description of Richard III.), Edmund Spenser (Specimens from the Faerie Queen), Ben Jonson (The Alchemist), John Locke (On Education), Thomas Gray (Poems). With the promise, "to proceed with this undertaking with the same zeal and spirit that have hitherto marked its progress," the publisher closes his preface, turning with new vigor to his beloved task, and bringing out, in January, 1869, volume 1000, hailed with the greatest sympathy both by the public and the press, as the hearty congratulations show which on this occasion were bestowed on the successful publisher. Volume 1000 (as well as volume 2000) is not limited to Continental circulation, but may be sold throughout England and the Colonies. It is the "New Testament," the authorized English version, with introductory essay upon the three most celebrated manuscripts of the original Greek text, by Constantine Tischendorf, who was most fit for this devout and difficult task. It was Tischendorf who had the good fortune to discover, in 1844 and 1859, at the convent of St. Catherine, on Mt. Sinai, the Sinaitic ms. of both the Old and New Testament. Volume 1000 piously acknowledges the editor's gratitude to the protecting care of God, together with his thanks to his English and American authors, the volume being "dedicated to the living as a token of esteem, and to the dead as a tribute and remembrance." It was already at this period that the "Tauchnitz edition" required about 250,000 stereotype plates for the printing of the different volumes! But the energy and genius of the publisher were destined to arrive at a still higher point of success, when the celebrated and rich collection reached the astonishing number of 2000 volumes, this event taking place in December, 1881. Volume 2000, is entitled, "Of English Literature in the Reign of Victoria, with a Glance at the Past," by Henry Morley, Professor of English Literature at the University College, London. With a Frontispiece, and Dedicated to Their Most Gracious Majesties King Albert and Queen Caroline of Saxony." It contains a collection of 173 fac-simile autographs of contemporary writers, a preface by Baron Tauchnitz, an introduction by Professor Morley, and addenda to the fac-similes, explaining the names of pseudonymous or anonymous writers. To the second edition of this highly-interesting volume a valuable index is appended. In his preface, Baron Tauchnitz expresses "his deep feelings of thankfulness to God for having permitted him to carry on his undertaking for the long period of forty years, during fifteen of which his eldest son, Bernhard, supported him with the greatest devotion." Likewise the publisher gratefully remembers those writers of his collection who have passed away, leaving their works as memorial stones of their talent and fame. The editor also hopes "that his collection will continue to fulfil its mission by strengthening the love for English literature outside of England and her colonies." Volume 2000 was greeted with universal applause; and there have been given, on that occasion, many friendly and kind opinions upon the work of Professor Morley, as well as upon the Tauchnitz edition in general, both in English, German, American, Italian, and French newspapers. The collection, now having arrived at the stately number of 2100 volumes, includes all the great names of English and American literature, of the past and present, from Chaucer to Tennyson; Washington Irving and Nathaniel Hawthorne to Mark Twain—a wonderful monument of diligence and energy.

Of the life of Baron Tauchnitz, who lives to enjoy the well-deserved renown which his indefatigable industry has won him, the following dates will be interesting. Christian Bernhard, Baron Tauchnitz, is descended from a family of printers. He is the nephew of Carl Christoph Traugott Tauchnitz, who, in 1798, founded at Leipzig a printing and publishing firm, issuing Greek and Latin classics in stereotype edition, valuable dictionaries and Bibles, as well as the Koran in the original Arabian text. He died in January, 1836. His nephew, who was born on the 25th of August, 1816, at Schleinitz, near Norumburg (Prussia), had worked in in his uncle's office, and now, in 1837, established a printing firm under his own name. He first devoted his attention to the publication of valuable works in the department of law, which is still continued, though far greater interest belongs to the famous edition in which the publisher incorporated, in 1866, the "Collection of German Authors," destined to popularize German literature in England, "La France Classique," dictionaries, Bibles, etc. For the great services which the publisher rendered to the promotion of English literature, as well as for his benevolent and humane efforts for the welfare of society, Tauchnitz was created a baron in 1860, by the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, and honored with orders and decorations. In his castle at Kleinzschuocher, near Leipzig, the chief attraction of which is the library, with a collection of the two thousand and more volumes of the "edition," the Baron enjoys the ease and tranquillity of rural retirement. By will of the King of Saxony, he is Peer of the First Chamber of the Saxon Parliament, and, by the English Government, appointed Consul-General for Saxony. Of his two sons, Bernhard and Paul, the latter is an officer in the Prussian army; the former has already been mentioned as his father's partner in the well-known firm, which he entered in 1866. We may conclude with the hope that the Tauchnitz collection, as well as the highly-respected name of the baron's family and firm, will continue to prosper for many years to come.

CASELL & COMPANY.

IN noticing the reorganization of the house of Cassell, Petter, Galpin & Co., the London Book-seller pays the following handsome tribute to its managers and staff: "The rapidity with which this enormous business has been built up is one of the most remarkable facts in the modern history of the trade. Looking back to the modest beginnings of the house, it is possible to trace in their publications an accurate reflection of the progress and development of literary culture in the masses. The prescience with which they have adapted their undertakings to the advancing tide of education has been one of the secrets of their success, and a rare capacity for organization has enabled them to increase their establishment until it has reached its present vast dimensions. The staff, to whose faithful and intelligent coöperation so much of the success of the house is due, will, we believe, remain unchanged, and we also understand that the employes will have an opportunity of becoming shareholders in the company on favorable terms."

R. R. DONNELLEY & SONS.

Extract from the Chicago Stationer and Printer.

DONNELLEY, GASSETTE & LOYD, one of the largest printing and bookmaking houses in the West, has recently changed its name to that of R. R. Donnelley & Sons. The senior member of the corporation has held a large majority of the stock for some time, having bought the interests of Mr. Norman T. Gassette and Mr. Alexander T. Loyd, and in making the change Mr. Donnelley looked into the future, when his boys would be associated with him, and so named the new concern.

The house is one of the oldest in the city, having gradually grown from a very small one to its present truly great proportions. It is about twenty years since Mr. R. R. Donnelley came from Canada, and associated himself with Mr. Leroy Church and Mr. Edward Goodman, forming the widely known house of Church, Goodman & Donnelley, which was located at 51 and 53 La Salle St. Under the energetic management of Mr. Donnelley, as practical partner, the business outgrew the old premises, and a lease was made of the Kendall building, corner Washington and Dearborn Sts., the present site of the Equable Insurance building. With increased room and facilities the growth of trade was unprecedented. From this beehive twenty-three periodicals were issued, including The Spectator, the great insurance journal of New York, The American Builder, the authority in that line in this country. From this press-room Mr. A. N. Kellogg, the father of "patent insides," made his first venture. To do this work in those days a Hoe drum was occupied the greater part of three days per week. In a decade how this branch of trade has grown!

In 1870 a few prominent business men conceived the idea of establishing a large publishing concern in Chicago, which would compete for Western trade with Eastern houses. Mr. Donnelley was induced to enlist in the enterprise, and the machinery and business of Church, Goodman & Donnelley was purchased, forming the nucleus of the Lakeside Publishing and Printing Company, with a capital of $500,000. Within a year Mr. Donnelley had placed the majority of stock, selected a site for the new building, and four of the six stories of that classic structure, known as the Lakeside Building, were erected, when the great fire that swept over Chicago laid it in ruins. Saturday night Mr. Donnelley considered himself worth $60,000. Monday night a few cents was all he had. After helping to shelter and feed the poor unfortunates of the North Side he turned his attention to business. He rented the third floor of 103 and 105 Canal St., at $5,000 per annum, and that night started for New York for a new plant. The fire left him $10,000 in debt, but he returned with one of the best equipped offices in the city. Mr. Donnelley started in this new enterprise alone, and his success will be understood, when a year and a half afterward he turned over to the re-formed Lakeside Company his establishment valued at $27,000. He rebuilt the Lakeside Building, and to-day it stands one of the most beautiful of our city edifices.

Mr. Donnelley and Mr. Loyd originated The Lakeside Library, which created such a revolution by cheapening good literature. The Lakeside was the pattern after which so many publications of that class copied.

Mr. Donnelley associated with Mr. Cox and formed the bookbinding house of A. J. Cox & Co., in 1873, and immediately after made a contract with Capt. A. T. Andreas for printing and binding, amounting to $53,000, the largest single contract of that nature ever let in the West by private parties.

The present location of business is 140, 142, 144 146 Monroe Street. The elevator lands you on the fifth floor, the entire space of which is occupied by R. R. Donnelley & Sons. It is 30 x 190 feet, being the largest printing office on one floor to be found in this country.

BOOKS ABOUT BOOKS.

From the Critic of May 19.

THE peculiarly practical nature of the best American writing about books as books is shown to the full in the series of little volumes which Mr. F. Leypoldt is now publishing. They are books of a kind which could not be written in any other country, because in no other country is the practical application of library science as advanced as it is in these United States. They are books of a kind which would hardly find readers in any other country, because in no other country are the desire for reading and for self-improvement and the faculty of self-help as widespread and as nearly universal as it is in the United States. In no other country, for example, has a serious attempt been made to link the public library to the public schools, and to make the public library what some of the ablest of American librarians declare that it ought to be—namely, the people's university. "Libraries and Schools" (F. Leypoldt) is edited by Mr. Samuel S. Green, the well-known Librarian of the Free Public Library of Worcester, Mass. It is a reprint in a convenient form of six articles, two of which are by Mr. Green himself, and the others by Mr. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., Mr. Robert C. Metcalf, and Mr. W. E. Foster. Of these perhaps Mr. Adams' article on "The Public Library and the Public School" is the most important, as it is the best known to the general public. But all of the papers deserve and will no doubt receive thoughtful consideration. Mr. W. E. Foster, the inventor and editor of the admirable Monthly Reference Lists, is the librarian of the Providence Public Library. Besides contributing two papers to Mr. Green's volume he has just put forth in the same series an excellent hand-book of practical information, "Libraries and Readers" (Leypoldt). This too is in great measure a reprint—chiefly from the pages of the ever praiseworthy and painstaking Library Journal. Mr. Foster's aim is to show how the aimless reader of the ordinary public library, the man or woman who "wants a book" but does not know what book, or even what sort of book, may be led to take a lively interest in books and the library. Here Mr. Foster speaks as one having authority, because in doing this very thing he has been most successful. His little book is to be recommended in the highest manner to all who seek to improve the quality of their reading, or who desire to give aid and advice to others.

"Books and How to Use Them: Some Hints to Readers and Students," by J. C. Van Dyke (Fords, Howard & Hulbert), is closely akin in object to Mr. Foster's more compact and concise booklet, but it is not as direct or as simple in its teachings. Still it is a book likely to be of use. Its advice, often a little high-flown in expression, is generally sound, and may be followed with safety. We note (on p. 30) a curious bracketing of the names of George Arnold and Poe, as though they were writers of an equal and equally undeserved reputation. And on p. 141, Mr. Van Dyke speaks of Poole's Index as only "dating down to 1853."

OBITUARY.

EDOUARD LABOULAYE.

"By the death of Edouard René Lefebvre Laboulaye, France," says the N. Y. Times, "loses one of the most learned and conservative of her public men. At the time of his death he was 72 years old, having been born in Paris on Jan. 18, 1811. He studied law, and became a writer upon topics connected with it. At the same time he followed the trade of type-founder, and upon the title-page of his first important work—'A History of the Law of Property in Land in Europe, from the Time of Constantine to Our Own Days'—he announced that fact. The book mentioned was crowned by the Academy. His next important literary production was 'An Inquiry into the Civil and Political Condition of Women, from the Time of the Romans Down to Our Own Days,' which was crowned by the Academy of Moral and Political Sciences. During the American civil war M. Laboulaye was a firm friend of the Union, and wrote much and often in favor of the cause of the North in the journals of Paris. He wrote a 'Political History of the United States' in 1849, and a work on 'The United States and France,' in 1862, and he edited Channing's works, introducing the one on slavery by an admirable essay, which went far to arouse a spirit of abolitionism in France. His book entitled 'Paris en Amerique' also had a great success. His literary, political, and law works are too numerous to be mentioned in detail. They show that he had a wonderful power of adaptation and facility of expression. M. Laboulaye was a member of the French Institute, but not of the Academy. He was a candidate for the seat of Sylvestre de Sacy in 1880, but Maxime du Camp was elected over him.

WILLIAM PHILIP NIMMO.

MR. WILLIAM PHILIP NIMMO died at Edinburgh, April 16, aged 52. The deceased, who was a native of Edinburgh, says the London Bookseller, "was at the age of fourteen apprenticed to Messrs. W. Blackwood & Sons, and on the expiry of his term of six years, came to London, and obtained a situation at Messrs. Simpkin & Marshall's, where he remained three years. After this he was engaged for twelve months in winding up the insolvent estate of Messrs. Clarke & Beeton. Returning to Edinburgh in December, 1855, he commenced a wholesale miscellaneous book business, and obtained several valuable agencies from leading London publishers. Gradually he introduced the publishing business; his first essay being Sam Slick's works, which he published in connection with the late Mr. David Bryce. In 1860, he started a branch business in Glasgow, which was carried on for three years, and then discontinued with the agency and wholesale business in Edinburgh. He now confined his attention to publishing; the works produced being chiefly high class non-copyright works, nicely printed and attractively bound. 'Nimmo's Poets' have become famous all over the world. There was also a long series of royal 8vo volumes, and many series of children's reward books. Personally, Mr. Nimmo was much liked by all with whom he came into personal contact; he was of winning, gentlemanly manners, and never said or did an unkind thing. The business will, we understand, be carried on by his trustees under the management of Mr. Hay, who was taken into partnership five or six years ago."

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

DAUDET'S "L'Evangeliste" appears in England under the title of "Port Salvation."

DODD, MEAD & CO. have in press Curzon's "Monasteries of the Levant," which has been out of print for ten or fifteen years.

JAMES POTT, N. Y., has published in an exquisite little volume Bishop Wilson's "Sacra Privata," readings and prayers suitable for the quiet moments of morning and evening.

HENRY A. SUMNER & CO., Chicago, announce that the next novel in the Hammock series will be "An Ideal Fanatic," by Mrs. L. B. Porch, of Louisville, Ky. It will be ready July 25.

CHAS. H. WHITING has just completed arrangements by which he becomes the Boston agent of the Orange Judd Co. He will keep full lines of the company's publications in stock.

TWO new volumes of the "Memoirs of Prince Metternich" have just been issued by Plon, Paris. They form the sixth and seventh volumes of the complete work, and cover the period from 1835 to 1848.

D. LOTHROP has purchased "The Wayside," Hawthorne's old home at Concord. He intends to make it his residence, and will preserve much of its antique portions which date back to the Revolution.

T. B. PETERSON & Co. announce Guy de Maupassant's novel "A Life (the humble truth)," a picture of the morals of the little nobility of the Provinces of France. They have also in preparation "Her Two Husbands," by Emile Zola.

AN odd book has just appeared in England. It contains diagrams of the palms and backs of the hands of 22 eminent persons, among whom are Mr. Gladstone, Charles Darwin, Wilkie Collins, and the Duke of Argyle.

E. J. GOODRICH, Oberlin, O., will publish shortly "Oberlin," a history of the village from its founding in 1833 to its semi-centennial jubilee in 1883, and of its college, by President J. H. Fairchild. It will make a twelvemo volume of about 400 pages.

E. & H. T. ANTHONY & Co. have published a useful little manual for amateur photographers, prepared by T. C. Roche. It is entitled "How to Make Photographs," and contains hints as to material and implements and the best modes of operation.

D. LOTHROP & Co. have in preparation a book for young mothers, entitled "Twenty-Six Hours a Day," by Mrs. Erastus Blakeslee; and a volume of essays by the Rev. W. A. Smith, of the Baptist Church, Somerville, Mass., entitled "Who is Responsible?"

THE MASS. NEW CHURCH UNION has just brought out the first volume of the Bible series, which the teachers of the Boston schools are preparing. It is a manual of instruction for the Swedenborgian Sunday-schools, and is entitled "Bible Stories for the Youngest Classes."

YOUNG J. PENTLAND, Edinburgh, hopes to issue early in June "Practical Pathology," a manual for students and practitioners, by Dr. G. Sims Woodhead. The book will form an octavo volume illustrated by upward of 100 colored plates, mostly from original drawings.

THE Thomas Nelson & Sons' Baseball Club have proved themselves invincible so far. Since our last report they have played three games with outsiders, in all of which they were more or less ahead. On the 26th ult. they played the Putnam's Sons nine, at the Union Grounds, and won with a score of 36 against 9.

GEORGE W. CARLETON & Co. have published the "Life and Adventures of Josh Billings," by Francis S. Smith. This book is not a joke in any way, but is a veritable memoir of Mr. Henry W. Shaw, who was born in Lanesboro, Berkshire Co., Mass., in 1818, and who is now one of the recognized humorists of America.

JOHN W. LOVELL CO. will publish on the 25th "Jets and Flashes," by Erratic Enrique (Henry Clay Lukens), of the New York News. The book is full of snap wisdom and sentimental and quizzical sketches in prose and verse and is illustrated with 30 grotesque vignettes from original drawings by René Bache.

S. W. GREEN'S SON has published in a pamphlet of 100 pages, a "Complete History of the New York and Brooklyn Bridge," from its conception in 1866 to its completion in 1883. The volume was compiled by Mr. S. W. Green, and contains portraits and sketches of men who have been prominent in the construction of the bridge, together with reproductions of original drawings.

HARPER & BROTHERS announce "Old Mexico and the Lost Provinces," a reprint of Mr. W. H. Bishop's articles describing his travels in southern California and Mexico, published during the year in Harper's Magazine, accompanied by many excellent illustrations; "Shakespeare's Sonnets," the concluding volume of Mr. Rolfe's edition of Shakespeare's works; and "Frederick the Great and Marie Theresa," by the Duc de Broglie."

ROBERT CLARKE & Co., Cincinnati, will publish this month, "The Reporter's Guide, Designed for Students in any Style of Phonography, in which are Formulated for the First Time, in any Work of the Kind, Rules for the Contraction of Words, Principles of Phrasing, and Methods of Abbreviation, abundantly illustrated," by Elias Longley, author of "Eclectic Manual of Phonography."

JAMES W. PRATT, 75 Fulton St., N. Y., has in preparation, "How to Get On in the World, as Demonstrated by the Life and Language of William Cobbett," to which is added Cobbett's "English Grammar with Notes." "The aim of this work is to show what Cobbett was as a man and a writer. It is a study in Language as well as in life. It is intended especially for every young man who is striving to educate himself and to get on in the world; for every young teacher aiming at advancement in his profession, and for every one who is preparing himself to be a teacher or writer."

THE late Rev. Dr. Ethan Allen left among his papers the manuscript of a history of "St. Paul's" Parish, Baltimore, which, it is proposed, shall be published under the editorial supervision of Professor H. B. Adams of the Johns Hopkins University, as soon as 400 subscriptions are secured. It is virtually a history of the Episcopalian Church in Maryland, from its foundation in 1686 to the close of 1854, and cannot fail to be of general interest to all members of that denomination. Subscriptions for the work and letters regarding the same should be addressed to Geo. S. Holliday, Secretary, No. 1 Rialto Building, Baltimore, Ind.

FOUR lectures delivered last year to the employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company have been printed and distributed. Prof. H. Newell Martin's lecture, "How Skulls and Backbones are Built," is a popular but very thorough piece of work, illustrated with woodcuts. Dr. Henry Sewall lectured on the title "How We Move," Dr. William T. Sedgwick spoke on "Fermentation," and Dr. William K. Brooks on "Some Curious Kinds of Animal Locomotion." These lectures are the result partly of the wish of President J. W. Garrett to instruct his employes, partly of the attempt on the part of the Johns Hopkins University to make the institution something more than a training-school for specialists and to popularize scientific subjects in Baltimore by means of lectures. Copies of the pamphlet can be had by written or personal application at the President's office in Baltimore.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will publish immediately a novelette by Anna Katherine Green, author of the "Leavenworth Case," "A Strange Disappearance" and "The Sword of Damocles," entitled "X, Y, Z." This volume must not be confused with the more important work, "Hand and Ring," upon which Miss Green has, for the past year, been engaged, but which will not be issued in book-form until the fall. Messrs. Putnam announce as the third volume in the Library of Political Information, "Meat and Wool," a survey of the ranch industries and grazing regions of the United States, by Clarence Gordon, late an expert in the U. S. Census. They will also publish in a large octavo the full report of the proceedings of the banquet lately given to Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes by his professional brethren and admirers in this city. The volume will contain an account of the doctors' dinner, with the poem read by Dr. Holmes on that occasion, seven or eight of the best speeches, and a number of portraits of the guest of the evening and the chief speakers.

Bancroft's History of the United States.

VOLUME TWO.

HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES, FROM THE DISCOVERY OF THE CONTINENT TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION IN 1789. By GEORGE BANCROFT. An entirely new edition, partly re-written and thoroughly revised. To be published complete in six volumes, 8vo. Second volume now ready. 8vo, cloth, uncut, gilt top, $2.50.

In this edition of his great work the author has made extensive changes in the text, condensing in places, enlarging in others, and carefully revising. It is practically a new work, embodying the results of the latest researches, and enjoying the advantage of the author's long and mature experience. The original octavo edition was published in twelve volumes. The present edition will be completed in six volumes, octavo, the price being correspondingly reduced.

II.

Dynamic Sociology;

OR, APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE, AS BASED UPON STATICAL SOCIOLOGY AND THE LESS COMPLEX SCIENCES. By LESTER F. WARD, A.M. In two volumes, 12mo, cloth, $5.

"Mr. Ward has made an original and able contribution to the large and very important subject of social science. This work is not a compilation or résumé of previous promulgations, but an elaboration of his own independent views; and he has constructed a system which, from its breadth, its scientific basis, and its elaborate method, lays claim to the character of a philosophy."—Popular Science Monthly.

III.

The Parchment Series.

POEMS. By ALFRED TENNYSON. With Frontispieces. Two volumes, vellum, gilt top, $2.50.

These volumes contain all that was published in the original two volumes by which Mr. Tennyson first became known to the world, together with a few early poems and sonnets not then published, and "Tithonus."

THE BRITISH CONSTITUTION.

By AMOS DEAN, LL.D. 1 vol., 16mo, $1.

This little manual, taken from the papers of the late Amos Dean, is written in that concise attractive style of which he was so thoroughly a master, and will be welcomed not only by our lawyers who studied under him during the seventeen years he was at the head of the Albany Law School, but by every historical student.

PIANOFORTE MUSIC:

ITS HISTORY, WITH BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES AND CRITICAL ESTIMATES OF ITS GREATEST MASTERS. By JOHN COMFORT FILLMORE. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.50.

DEAR SIR :

BOSTON CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC, May 16.

I have read the advance sheets of Mr. J. C. Fillmore's "Pianoforte Music," which you kindly sent me. It is a thoughtful and very interesting book, which will no doubt find a wide circle of readers among artists and amateurs. I shall be glad to recommend it to our students as a worthy contribution to our American musical literature.

Yours, very sincerely,

JULIUS EICHBERG, DIRECTOR.

THE BOOK-BUYER and THE BOOK-MAKER

Are brought together by the book-seller. Such at least should be the function which that worthy performs. And such it was in the olden time. He was the intelligent guide to book-buyers, and the friend of book-makers. And he certainly cannot be the enemy of the book-maker to-day, for it is in diffusing his wares that he makes a living. But the modern book-seller has ceased to be such an index rerum, or living catalogue, as was the old-time book-seller. We suppose there are on an average a couple of dozen new books of all sorts published every week. And yet the mourners are in the streets bewailing the departure of the old-time book-seller, who could tell them everything his wares contained. A modern business man cannot keep up with all the new issues, nor spend his time in retailing their abstracted and concentrated information for the edification of the public. He can tell you what sells.

But because the book-seller cannot read all the books that should be on his shelves, and make abstracts for the benefit of his customers, he must have the books themselves for the inspection of the public if he aims at something more than becoming a mere middleman or agent for the publisher. It is one of the necessities of his profession which he can avoid only by sinking that profession to the level of a commission merchant. As the farmer needs his implements, the mechanic his tools, and the lawyer his library, the book-seller must keep a stock of salable books to sell, or go out of the business.

Now, book-sellers have for some time been exercised in selecting their stock. They can't carry everything, and it requires a fine discrimination and good judgment to select just what will leave their shelves quickly and turn their money. There are certain books which it is always profitable to carry, but a man can't forever look around; he must begin to do. Many book-sellers have begun—and they congratulate themselves on it now—by ordering from our catalogue. Of course we don't publish all the books a book-seller needs to keep; but we have a good many that he wants. And those seem to be just the thing when others prove dead stock. Why? Because not being particular in style, they never go out of style; not making any special pretence to be fashionable, they never remain on the shelf when the fashion changes. They are very attractive, respectable, thoroughgoing, practical, always in demand, and, like your decently dressed, common-sense, practical man, never at a discount.

Our line of Bibles includes the very best in three languages. Our English Family Bibles, with the Revised New Testament, stand without a peer; and of them Brown's Explanatory stands at the head. This is a Protestant Bible. The English Catholic Bibles, in addition to their other valuable features, contain the Life of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and are the most complete Catholic Bibles published.

Our German Family Bible, Protestant, is Luther's own translation, finely and profusely illustrated, with notes by the great Commentator, Otto Deitrich. Our Catholic German Bible is the only authorized version, and the one always sought after in this country.

Our Spanish Catholic Bible is the finest ever published. Our Teachers' Bibles contain invaluable matter not found in either the Oxford or Bagster Bibles. And there are several editions of smaller Bibles, handy volumes for daily use. Our Miscellaneous Stock includes standard works on Biography, History, Travel, and Adventure, Poetry, Religion, Fiction, Humorous Works, Medical Works, Agricultural Works, Practical Works, etc., etc.

Our Text-Books include the following:

An Introduction to the Study of English Literature and Literary Criticism. By Prof. James Baldwin. 2 vols., octavo.
French Syntax. By Prof. James A. Harrison, Washington and Lee University. 1 vol., 12mo.
The Artist and his Mission. By Rev. Wm. M. Reilly, Ph.D., Palatine College. 1 vol., 12mo.
A Manual of the German Language. By Augustin Knoplich. 1 vol., 12mo.
The Science and Art of Elocution; or, How to Read and Speak. By Frank H. Fenno. 1 vol., 12mo.

Our Catalogue, containing full description, with prices, etc., on application.
